HYDERABAD, JUNE 12
Smugglers are now switching over to cigarettes and silk yarn fabric as they are low-risk but are high-reward. Discussing the importance of creating awareness on the new counterfeit products, Ficci organised a seminar, “Combating Counterfeiting and Smuggling—An Imperative to Accelerate Economic Development” on Tuesday. According to a Ficci report, seizure of cigarettes by the Department of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) increased by 78 per cent in the year 2016-2017. The number of tobacco smuggling cases increased from 1312 in 2015-16 to 3108 in 2016-17, marking a 138 per cent rise.

Calling the problem of counterfeit goods a ‘v�etinless crime’ as no direct harm is done to an individual, J. Parimala Hana Nutan, SP, CID, called for coordinated efforts at all levels to overcome this menace. Anil Kumar Jain, Principal Commissioner, Customs, said India must work towards implementing stringent rules to punish smugglers. He also appealed to the public to be proactive in informing the officials whenever they came across any counterfeit activity.

Telangana has set several standards in tackling smuggling and sale of counterfeit goods. We are the first in the country to eliminate the trade of illicit liquor. We have not spared any practitioners of illicit trade.

— ETALA RAJENDRA, state minister for finance and planning

“We should not prioritise money and forgo the public good. We should be vigilant in tackling the problem.” Telangana has set several standards in tackling smuggling and sale of counterfeit goods.

“We are the first state in the country to eliminate the trade of gudumba (illicit liquor) and our law and order machinery is leading by example in various aspects. We have not spared any practitioners of illicit trade.”
Counterfeit & smuggling invisible threat to economy, caused over ₹39K crore loss

The volume of counterfeiting activity globally increased 10 times in the last 20 years and the size of the trade in counterfeit goods was 18% of the global international trade. “The problem of illicit trade is worse than it is commonly perceived,” Jha added.

As per the FICCI CASCADE report released in 2016, the government loses revenue due to counterfeiting and smuggling in seven manufacturing sectors worth ₹39,000 crore. While the maximum revenue loss of ₹1,000 crore was in tobacco products, it was ₹650 crore in mobile phones and ₹500 crore in alcoholic beverages. Principal commissioner of customs, Hyderabad, Arvind Kumar, said he was concerned about the smuggling of counterfeit medicines on public health.

The speakers pointed out that buying counterfeit and smuggled goods has led to loss of jobs in the country and as these sectors operate outside the taxable economy.

GEARING UP

‘TS must spruce up to combat counterfeiting’

TO combat smuggling and counterfeiting activities that is draining India’s economy, the State machinery needs to be spruced up to make law enforcement effective. This was the take away from the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) CASCADE seminar on Combating counterfeiting and smuggling, held on Tuesday in Hyderabad.

“Consumers need to be educated about counterfeit goods as these days there is a narrow gap in the quality difference in packaging between the original and counterfeit goods making it difficult to differentiate,” said State finance minister Eletal Rajender at his inaugural address.

The speakers pointed out that buying counterfeit and smuggled goods has led to loss of jobs in the country and as these sectors operate outside the taxable economy.

Counterfeit/smuggled goods are visibly impacting the economy by generating black money, said PC Jha, Advisor, FICCI CASCADE (Committee against smuggling and counterfeiting activities destroying the economy).

The markets are getting inundated with cheap quality goods available at a lower price, thus decimating sales of genuine manufacturers. This grey market adversely impacts the economy, he said at a seminar organised by it in Hyderabad today. Smuggling has become a low-risk, high reward field, Jha said. The penal code is not strong enough to deal with smuggling and the court takes too much time in prosecuting, he added.

Jha called for public awareness campaigns to combat the menace. “For every product you buy, ask for a bill. It solves 80 per cent of the problem,” he said.

“The most dangerous form of counterfeiting occurs in pharmaceutical products, said Gowra Srinivas, President, Fapcci. Hospital patients often end up getting counterfeit medicines that are hazardous to health, he added.

According to estimates, counterfeit goods account for 5 per cent of global trade, he said. The seminar discussed the impact of counterfeiting and smuggling on the Indian economy, and proposed solutions to curb the same.

As per a FICCI CASCADE report released in 2015, it is estimated that illicit markets in just seven manufacturing sectors cause a loss of ₹39,239 crore to the government. The maximum revenue loss is attributed to tobacco products (₹9,139 crore) followed by mobile phones (₹6,705 crore). The report also pegged the total employment loss globally due to counterfeiting and smuggling at two million in 2013. Etela Rajender, Telangana State Minister for Finance & Consumer Affairs expressed regret over the current trend of avariciousness over ethics, morals, the health of consumers, and the economy. He pleaded for the public’s commitment and conviction to curb the menace. The counterfeiting business may be the bread and butter for a few, but it destroys lakhs of others, he added.

Consumer insistence on being issued a receipt for the purchase of goods made as a measure to curb counterfeiting was highlighted by speakers at a seminar in the city on Tuesday.

This will reduce the problem by as much as 80%, former chairman of Central Board of Excise and Customs P.C Jha said even while underscroing the need for a change in the mindset of consumers to buy only genuine products. Addressing the seminar organised by FICCI CASCADE (Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy), of which he is the Advisor now, Mr. Jha also called for policy level changes and stringent enforcement to tackle the menace. Stressing the significance of customers insisting on receipts, Principal Commissioner, Customs, Anil Kumar Jain, also suggested a multidisciplinary approach to curb the menace of counterfeiting and smuggling.

Delivering the inaugural address, Finance Minister Eatala Rajender said stern deterrence and joint action by stakeholders could help address the problem. All enforcement mechanisms ought to come together to combat the menace in the State, he said.

Telangana not okay with GST on fuel, liquor: Eatala
Finance Minister says such a move hit TS’s finances hard

Hyderabad: Telangana Finance Minister Eatala Rajender on Tuesday said the State would suffer huge financial losses if the Centre brings petrol and diesel under the ambit of Goods and Services Tax (GST).

Speaking to reporters on the sidelines of a Ficci programme here, the Minister said Telangana differs with some of the terms of reference issued by the 15th Finance Commission. “This (bring- ing petrol and diesel under GST) is not a correct decision. It will hurt the federal spirit of our country. If these products are brought under GST, state finances will be further reduced,” he said. Licor and fuel should not come under GST, he added. States should have some independence for generating their own revenues, the minister further said.

On the current prices of petrol and diesel hovering above Rs 80 and Rs 70 respectively, the minister said instead of suggesting to states to reduce VAT on the products, the central government should cut excise duty and bring prices down. “Most of the Welfare schemes are implemented by the States. We request the central government to reduce central excise, which has been continuously increased,” he said, adding it is the responsibility of the Centre to reduce and give relief to common man.

The Minister said, “Though Telangana opted out of the recent conference in Amaravati in Andhra Pradesh held by some of the finance ministers on the changes to the terms of reference (ToR) of the 15th Finance Commission, Telangana would voice its concerns to the centre.”

“The ToR of the 15th finance commission are in the form of curbing states’ rightful resources and may become an impediment to development. This is not good. We may not have attended the meeting, but this is our opinion. We will convey it to the Centre,” he explained.

Opposing the ToR of the 15th Finance Commission, finance ministers of various states recently met in the AP capital. Telangana was not part of that meeting.

Earlier, speaking at seminar on ‘Combating Counterfeiting and Smuggling – An Imperative to Accelerate Economic Development’ organized by FICCI CASCADE (Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy), the Minister stated that counterfeiting and smuggling is a huge area of concern as it highly impacts the health and safety of the common people along with revenue losses to industry and tax losses to the governments.

Devesh Sarma, Chairman, FICCI Hyderabad State Council & MD, Bhargavagiri India Limited, said that counterfeiting and smuggling adversely impacts industries, consumers, government and economies as a whole. It is imperative to understand the need for safeguarding the rights of legitimate industry to developing competitiveness in various sectors of the economy.

Government urged to check illicit trade

Increased awareness and public pressure on the government is required to ensure that the menace of illicit trade in the country is checked, industry leaders said here on Tuesday.

They were speaking at a seminar called ‘Combating Counterfeiting and Smuggling’ organised by FICCI, where Finance Minister Etela Rajender was the chief guest.

“Telangana has not several standards in tackling smuggling, and sale of counterfeit goods. We are the first State in the country to eliminate the trade of ‘gudumali’ (illicit liquor) and our law and order machinery is leading by example in various aspects. We have not spared any practitioners of illicit trade, and the government doing its best within the legal framework,” the Minister said.

At a time when the gap between original and first products was decreasing, and as it got harder to tell legal from illegal products, education of consumers was the most important challenge to meet, he said.

“One struggles to spot the fake product among original as can be seen increasingly in the mobile phone market. The industry too can lead awareness campaigns to ensure that consumers are informed of what they are buying and what they should keep away from,” he said.

FICCI Hyderabad State Council chairman Devendra Surana, FATAPCCI president Gourav Srilaxmi, Central Board of Excise and Customs former chairman PC Jha also spoke among others.
