Stringent action taken by Tamil Nadu have resulted in reduction of smuggling: Minister

CHENNAI: R Sakkarapani, Minister for Food and Civil Supplies, Government of Tamil Nadu on Tuesday said, "Stringent actions by the state have reduced the smuggling of watches, gold, alcohol and Indian currency, to a considerable extent, but there's a lot that still needs to be done."

Addressing a seminar on 'Preventive Strategies to Combat Counterfeiting and Smuggling', organised by FICCI CASCADE, the Minister suggested to organize such awareness programs in educational institutions to involve the youth in this fight against illicit trade. He further urged FICCI CASCADE to propagate the problem of counterfeiting and smuggling on social media channels, newspaper and other promotional sources in order to make the general public aware of this alarming issue.

PC Jha, Advisor, FICCI CASCADE and Former Chairman, Central Board of Indirect Taxes & Customs said, "Illicit trade is a grave concern, it undermines the nation's economy, damages brand integrity, and most importantly affects health and safety of the citizens which needs to be addressed on an urgent basis." "During the last twenty years, the volume of the counterfeiting activity globally has increased 100 times and the size of trade is 10 per cent of the legal international trade (around 2 per cent of the world's overall economic output). The problem of illicit trade is much more serious than it is commonly perceived."

Deep Chand, Advisor, FICCI CASCADE and Former Special Commissioner of Police, New Delhi, emphasized on the need for consumers being continuously made aware of the detrimental impact of illicit products. Consumer awareness campaigns that explain how to differentiate a spurious product from a genuine product, to demanding a copy of the bill from the seller, along with the harmful consequences of buying illegal products vis a vis a genuine one, needs to be explicitly conveyed. Increasing the rule of law and enhancing effectiveness of penalties and sanctions is important to curb the mounting hazards of Counterfeiting and Smuggling, he added.

Other key speakers included Dr. G S K Velu, Chairman, FICCI Tamil Nadu State Council & CMD, Trivitron / Neuberger Group of Companies, Bhupesh Nagarajan, Co-Chairman, FICCI Tamil Nadu State Council & CMD, Indira Projects, Mahesh Kumar Agarwal, Additional Director General of Police, Chennai, G Ravindra-nath, Principal Commissioner, Chennai Customs and S Saroja, Executive Director - Consumer Advisory and Outreach Vertical, Citizen Consumer and Civic Action Group (CAG).

Tax loss from illicit goods up by ₹25 cr

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Chennai: The prevalence of counterfeit products and smuggling in sectors such as mobile phones and fast-moving consumer goods has increased the tax loss to the government by ₹24,607 crore in the last eight years, said P C Jha, former chairman of the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC).

Speaking at the seminar on preventive strategies to combat counterfeiting and smuggling in the city, Jha said that five sectors – mobile phones, household and personal goods, tobacco products, alcoholic beverages and packaged foods – were chosen as most fake and smuggled products fell in those categories.

In smuggling, cigarettes and alcoholic beverages ranked second and third after gold, said Jha. The revenue loss due to illicit trade of tobacco increased from ₹6,239 crore in 2011-12 to ₹13,331 crore in 2019-20.

Food and civil supplies minister R Sakkarapani, who inaugurated the seminar, said businesses should work together to prevent smuggling and fake products in the market.

Chairman, FICCI Tamil Nadu State Council & CMD, Indra Projects, Mr. Mahesh Kumar Agarwal, Additional Director General of Police, Chennai, Mr. G. Ravindranath, Principal Commissioner, Chennai Customs and Ms. S. Saroja, Executive Director - Consumer Advisory and Outreach Vertical, Citizen Consumer and Civic Action Group (CAG).

The market for contraband and smuggled goods is thriving in India and is today one of the biggest challenges faced by Indian industry. The country is witnessing widespread smuggling in various product categories such as gold, cigarettes, cosmetics, medicines, jewellery, readymade garments, alcohol, capital goods and consumer electronics, which is severely hurting the country's economy. The problem gets more acute in states like Tamil Nadu owing its vast coastline and Chennai being one of the major significant seaports. Smugglers use these destinations to get products into the country and then distribute in the domestic market.

The seminar discussed the importance of increased awareness on the hazards of counterfeiting and smuggling, and the need for effective enforcement to enhance India's economic development. The seminar also deliberated on FICCI CASCADE's recent report titled 'Illicit Markets: A Threat to Our National Interests', which examines the impact of illicit trade in five key industries in India - Mobile Phones, FMCG-Household and Personal Goods, FMCG-Packaged Foods, Tobacco Products, and Alcoholic Beverages.

Volume of counterfeiting spiked 100 times globally: FICCI

CHENNAI: In the last 20 years, the volume of counterfeiting activity has increased 100 times globally and the size of the trade is 10% of the legal international trade, accounting for around 2% of the world's overall economic output, according to a report by the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI).

The market for contraband and smuggled goods is thriving in India and is today one of the biggest challenges faced by Indian industry. To study and address this issue, FICCI formed a committee - CASCADE (Committee against smuggling, counterfeiting activities destroying the economy) which examined the impact of illicit trade in 5 key industries in India - mobile phones, FMCG-household and personal goods, FMCG-packaged foods, tobacco and alcoholic products.

"The country is witnessing widespread smuggling in gold, cigarettes, cosmetics, medicines, jewellery, readymade garments, alcohol, capital goods and consumer electronics. This is severely hurting the country's economy. The problem gets more acute in states like Tamil Nadu due to its vast coastline, and Chennai being one of the major significant seaports. Smugglers use these facilities to get products into the country and then distribute in the domestic market," the report stated.

According to the report, the size of illicit market in the above mentioned industries was Rs 2,60,094 crore in 2019-20,

INDUSTRY	MARKET SIZE	TAX LOSS
	Rs in crore
Mobile phones	15,884	2,859
FMCG - Household & personal goods	55,530	9,995
FMCG - Packaged foods	1,42,284	17,074
Tobacco products	22,930	13,331
Alcoholic beverages	23,466	15,262

with the FMCG industry - household and personal goods, and packaged foods - accounting for 3/4th of the total illicit value. It also estimates that unlawful trade in these industries results in a legitimate employment loss of 15.96 lakh, and the estimated tax loss to the government is Rs 58,521 crore, with two highly regulated and taxed industries (tobacco products and alcoholic beverages) accounting for nearly 48% of the overall tax loss.

PC Jha, advisor, FICCI-CASCADE and former chairman, Central Board of Indirect Taxes

& Customs, said, "Illicit trade undermines the nation's economy, damages brand integrity, and most importantly affects health and safety of citizens."

State police's ADGP Crime, Mahesh Kumar Aggarwal, who was part of a panel discussion, said that the industry body has been left wanting in addressing the issue. "The black money generated by this counterfeiting network is used in nefarious activities including terrorism.

This parallel economy is not only a huge threat to our economy, but also our national security," the ADGP said.

G Ravindranath, principal commissioner, Chennai Customs, said that this dark economy might as well be the 5th largest economy in the world.

"The way forward is setting up of economic offences wing and fast track courts and increase penalties. Fines should be such that they should cause economic injury to those involved," he opined.

Call to crack whip on counterfeit products

OP ARULN I DC
CHENNAI, NOV. 8

Minister for Food and Civil Supplies, Consumer Protection and Price Control R. Sakkarapani has appealed to all the stakeholders, including Union and state governments, to wage a war against illicit business and counterfeit products, which is affecting not only the people but also the economy of the country.

Inaugurating a seminar on 'Preventive Strategies to Combat Counterfeiting and Smuggling' in Chennai on Tuesday the minister said after gold smuggling, illicit arrack, and fake accounts in FB, modern trade practices are hit by fake accounts and fake credit cards. Time has come to address such illicit practices and smuggling.

The meeting was organized by the Federation of Indian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (FICCI).

Mahesh Kumar Agarwal, Additional Director General of Police, Chennai, said the industry must create effective awareness among the consumers about counterfeit products and how to lodge complaint against such illicit trade.

P.C.Jha, advisor, FICCI -Committee Against Smuggling and Counterfeiting Activities Destroying the Economy, said "Illicit trade undermines the nation's economy, damages brand integrity, and most importantly affects health and safety of the citizens which needs to be addressed on an urgent basis."

"During the last twenty years, the volume of the counterfeiting activity globally has increased 100 times and the size of trade is 10 percent of the legal international trade and it is equivalent to 2 percent of the world's overall economic output. The problem of illicit trade is much more serious than it is commonly perceived," he said.

A report on Illicit Markets: A Threat to Our National Interests, published on Tuesday, examined the impact of illicit trade in five key industries in India — mobile phones, FMCG-household and personal goods, FMCG-packaged foods, tobacco products, and alcoholic beverages.

The unlawful trade in five industries results in a total estimated legitimate employment loss of ₹15.96 lakh. The estimated tax loss to the government due to illicit goods in these industries is ₹58,521 crore, with two highly regulated and taxed industries, tobacco products, and alcoholic beverages, accounting for nearly 49 percent of the overall tax loss.
